COOLIDGE DISCOURAGES RE-ELECTION BOOM

WILL NOT CONSENT TO BE DRAFTED

SENATOR FESS OF OHIO HAS INTERVIEW WITH CHIEF EXECUTIVE

COOLIDGE PROTESTS AGAINST FESS STATEMENT THAT HE WOULD BE DRAFTED

Washington, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Senator Fess, republican, Ohio, said today after a White House call that President Coolidge is displeased with the re-election boom being conducted in his behalf by some republican leaders and that in a talk today gave the senator the impression he would not consent to be drafted by the republican national convention next year.

Fess intimated the president vigorously and at some length had protested against the senator's frequent public remarks to the effect that Mr. Coolidge would be the republican nominee in 1928 by virtue of a draft.

"The president meant what he said," said Fess, referring to his "choose" statement. "It was with a good deal of regret that I learned the president would rather not have the situation discussed in connection with renomination."

Asked whether he was under the impression after his conversation with the president that Mr. Coolidge would refuse a draft, Fess said:

"He has a lot of feeling on the subject. If you had heard what he said that would have been your interpretation. If the president has his own way there will be nothing doing with him in 1928. He feels that this is not a one-man country and that there would be no more reason or necessity of his re-election now than four years from now."

Fess explained he had answered every argument of Mr. Coolidge with an argument in favor of his renomination and re-election, and insisted that he would continue because he was urging Mr. Coolidge again for the presidency as a duty to the people of the U. S. and not in an effort to do the president a favor.

The senator said he was especially eager that the reporters understand Mr. Coolidge had taken a decided stand with him with respect to re-election talk. He indicated that, despite a request from the executive term, he still felt it proper to suggest Mr. Coolidge as the best choice.

ORTONVILLE TO PUT ADDITION ON TO SCHOOL

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — The state board of investments today approved a loan of $50,000 to the city of Ortonville, for the construction of an addition to its high school. Ten other loans are made to school districts, counties and municipalities.

The board also purchased $37,000 of reimbursement bonds of Steele county, to enable the county to repay villages and towns for work done on state highways.

Geery Named Chairman of Finance and Credits Committee Shippers Board

Minneapolis, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Appointment of William B. Geery, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, as chairman of the finance and credits committee of the Northwest Shippers Advisory board, has been announced.

Mr. Geery succeeds Roy A. Young, governor of the bank from 1919 to 1927, who resigned as head of the committee on his departure for Washington to become governor of the Federal Reserve Bank.

TRIED HARD TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 20. — (UP) — After two attempts at suicide, Ward A. Pink, 32, insurance salesman, has slight chance of recovering, hospital attendants here said today.

Pink first tried to shoot himself, but the shotgun he intended to use failed to discharge.

Two hours later he was found in the bathroom of his home. The gas jet was open. Pink was taken to a hospital, but his chances of living were slight.

66 PER CENT OF N. D. CORN CROP FAILED TO MATURE

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 20. — (UP) — Sixty-six per cent of North Dakota's corn crop failed to mature before the advent of killing frosts, the mid-month crop summary of the U. S. department of agriculture, issued today, said.

Farmers of the state have completed 50 per cent of their fall plowing, and in the state generally 75 per cent of the fall rye had been seeded.

Although the wet season delayed threshing in some sections of the state, it was estimated that only 8 per cent of the wheat, 6 per cent of the oats and 42 per cent of the flax remained to be threshed last week.

MILDRED R. HILL FILES SUIT FOR SEPARATION

IS WIFE OF WALTER J. HILL, YOUNGEST SON OF "EMPIRE BUILDER"

STORY IS PUBLISHED IN THE NEW YORK DAILY NEWS

New York, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Mildred Richardson Hill, wife of Walter J. Hill, youngest son of the late James J. Hill, the "empire builder," has filed suit at Butte, Montana, for separation, according to a story published today in the New York Daily News.

Mrs. Hill, before her marriage, gained fame as a stage beauty in Ziegfeld's Follies. She had been termed "The Perfect American Beauty on the Perfect Stage."

The Hills were married at Livingston, Mont., last May, a short time after Hill was granted a divorce from his second wife. The present Mrs. Hill was his third venture into matrimony.

Hill had seen her on the stage and laid siege to her heart with many attentions, not the last of which was a $25,000 engagement ring.

Then they went west to be married. She said she was tired of the artificialities of the stage and wanted to join Hill in the wild, free life of a Montana stockman.

The Daily News said today that friends in New York have learned that the wild west proved too uncouth for happiness, and the action for separation was filed October 17.

The News prints two telegrams said to have been received from Mrs. Hill by Dr. Morton K. Hertz of New York, her counsellor and physician. The first was dated the day of the marriage and said:

"Well, I did it today and terribly happy. Will write full particulars later. Lots of love to you always."

The second was dated yesterday and read:

"Left husband Oct. 10. Filed suit October 17 charging habitual intemperance and cruel treatment. Found him wild as the mountain scenery here. He pretended to be a gentleman while courting me in the east but he is a regular Jekyll and Hyde. Have suffered intense humiliation at his language and actions everywhere. He is insanely jealous and threatened me if I left him, but I finally got up courage. Trial for separation will be heard in Butte October 28."

SKULL CAVED IN WITH AUTOMOBILE JACK

Ortonville, Minn., Oct. 20. — (UP) — Herbert Miller, held in connection with the death Wednesday of Herman Hadreth, whose body was found in a ditch near here, probably will be arraigned late today on a charge of murder.

Miller was captured by a sheriff's posse of 100 armed men which organized shortly after Hadreth's body was discovered. Hadreth's skull had been caved in with an automobile jack.

When Miller saw the posse approaching his automobile, he called for help. Later he said four men held him up, and robbed him of some money he had collected from a farmer as wages.

He denied that he killed Hadreth.

FOREST AND BRUSH FIRES PREVALENT

MORE MENACING TODAY THAN AT ANY TIME THIS YEAR

ADDITIONAL GUARDS ASSIGNED TO EVERY PATROL DISTRICT

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Forest and brush fires in northern Minnesota are more menacing today than at any time this year.

Each of the state's 40 steel outlook towers has been manned and additional guards assigned to every patrol district as a result of the Indian summer weather, according to Grover M. Conzel, state forester.

Although blazes have been reported from stations near Hibbing, Moose Lake, Cloquet, Duluth and points along the north shore, none of serious proportions has occurred, due to previous preventative measures, it was reported.

High, dry winds have added to the peril, especially in the district due north of Lake Superior, Conzel said.

In addition to state employees, railroads have put on crews to prevent fires. These men follow each train proceeding through heavily timbered districts to see that no blazes are started from sparks of the locomotives.

To prove that real danger exists at this time of year, Conzel cited the disastrous Cloquet-Moose Lake fire which started Oct. 12, 1918, taking a toll of 418 lives and millions of dollars in property damage before it was controlled.

EARL CARROLL PAROLED FROM FEDERAL PRISON

By EDWARD W. LEWIS
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20. — (UP) — The longest 24 hours in Earl Carroll's life were to end today with his parole from the federal penitentiary.

Carroll has served four months of a year's term for perjury in connection with his famous bath tub party, and told a fellow prisoner they were not so long as the last 24 hours.

As parole papers did not arrive in the morning mail, Warden Snook said Carroll could not be released until this afternoon. His release cannot be effected until he signs the papers, Snook explained.

He will be free to step out of the prison gates after about an hour with Warden John Snook, signing papers and officially checking out. Snook said he probably would spare Carroll the added humiliation of the customary $5 bill and the rough suit of clothes available.

Whether Carroll has definitely decided to attempt a return to Broadway appeared uncertain. He had not committed himself, but appeared eager to see his old haunts.

Dr. Charles T. Nellans, the prison physician, said the producer was sturdier physically than when he entered the penitentiary last spring, but expressed doubt he would return to Broadway because of "extreme humiliation."

The producer's wife and his brother and sister, James Carroll and Mrs. Franz Schneider, arrived during the morning, eager to be the first to greet him on his release.

POSSES SEARCH FOR MURDERER OF AN UNIDENTIFIED MAN

Ortonville, Minn., Oct. 20. — (UP) — Posses today continued their search of river valley bottoms for the murderer of an unidentified man near here Wednesday.

After combing the underbrush for miles around last night, the posses, swelled by additional scores of farmers, increased the scope of the search this morning with hopes of tracking down the man who killed his companion by striking him over the head with an automobile jack.

THOUGHT SHE WOULD SURPRISE FRIEND HUSBAND AND SHE DID

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Mme. Marthe Bogowski thought she would surprise her husband, whose faithfulness she suspected.

Porters were carrying M. Alexander Bogowski's heavy trunk from Warsaw railway station when one of them stumbled. The trunk dropped—and screamed.

"Nonsense," said M. Bogowski, to a porter who suspected a near trunk murder. But the trunk was opened.

"My wife," dramatically exclaimed M. Bogowski.

"Yes, it's I, Alexander," said the tearful Mme. Bogowski. "I thought I'd surprise you."

"Well, you certainly did," admitted M. Bogowski. "What's the idea?"

"Somebody told me I had reason to be jealous of you, and I thought I'd get out of the trunk when you arrived at your hotel and see if everything was all right."

"How did you think you were going to get out?" asked M. Bogowski.

"I never thought of that," said the wife.

APPEALS TO SOUTH TO UNITE ON FLOOD CONTROL

SEC. OF WAR DAVIS SPEAKS TO ARKANSAS BUSINESS MEN

ASKS THEM TO SMOTHER ANY DISSENSIONS AMONG THEM

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pine Bluff, Ark., Oct. 20. — An appeal for the south to unite on a definite plan for flood control and smother any dissensions was made to Arkansas business men today by Secretary of War Davis.

At a breakfast given him here, Davis warned that promotion of a variety of schemes which now are developing would hazard success of the whole problem.

"Congress is in a receptive mood now and the project must be put through," he said. "It will be put through if we all drop our minor differences and get behind a single plan."

Davis said flood relief must be "nonpartisan, non-political and non-personal."

RULING ON SHOWING OF FIGHT PICTURES

New York, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Motion picture exhibitors who have been showing pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight in states outside Illinois can not be punished under the interstate commerce act forbidding transportation of the films, Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard advised a grand jury today.

Judge Goddard's opinion was given when the jury, which has been investigating the transportation of fight pictures into New York state, asked that the statute be explained.

FASCIST ITALY DICTUM ON POPE'S TEMPORAL POWER

Rome, Oct. 20. — (UP) — An official fascist party bulletin said today that "resumption of temporal power by the Pope, even in reduced form, will not be entertained by fascist Italy."

The bulletin came at a time when well-informed people were speculating on the possibility of an early settlement of the Pope's status on the basis that he might be given sole sovereignty over Vatican property in Rome.

AMERICAN GIRL ASTOUNDS THE NATIVES OF ANGRA

STARE WIDE-EYED AT RUTH ELDER GARBED IN HER KNICKERS

MRS. GRAYSON IS EARTHBOUND, WAITING FOR DECENT WEATHER

Aboard Steamship Lima, at Sea Oct. 20. — (By Wireless to the United Press) — Natives of Angra on the island of Terceira were more astounded at seeing Ruth Elder garbed in plus fours than at the story of her attempted trans-Atlantic flight.

When the natives saw a woman garbed in knickers, probably for the first time in the history of the island, they stared wide-eyed at her during her visit yesterday.

After lunch, she and her co-pilot, Captain George Haldeman, toured the island, visiting the monument to Don Pedro IV. They saw ancient water wheels grinding corn, and went to the post office and cathedral.

At 5 P. M., Miss Elder and Haldeman returned to the Lima and watched cattle being loaded, preparatory to sailing.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 20. — Hoping that weather conditions will clear by the end of the week, Mrs. Frances W. Grayson and her pilot and navigator were still earthbound today as they patiently awaited an opportunity to begin their proposed flight to Copenhagen.

With adverse weather forecast for the next 48 hours in this region, hope of a start before Saturday has been abandoned.

Despite predictions by those most familiar with Maine coast weather that propitious flying weather is unlikely again this fall, the former schoolmarm still was confident she would not have to give up the flight.

A trip to Boston was planned today by Mrs. Grayson. Additional gasoline has been ordered from New York to replace that in the plane which has become infiltrated with rain. It is expected to arrive late today.

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 20. — Late advices from Pelotas indicate that the French trans-Atlantic aviators, Dieudonne Costes and Lieut. Joseph LeBrix, were preparing to take off from that city today on the last leg of their Paris to Buenos Aires flight.

Costes and LeBrix landed at Pelotas last night.

Pelotas, Brazil, Oct. 20. — Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French trans-Atlantic aviators, took off at 9:40 A. M. today for Buenos Aires.

They had stayed at Pelotas overnight after being delayed by bad weather on their flight from Rio De Janeiro.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 20. — Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French trans-Atlantic aviators, landed here at 12:54 P. M. today, after a flight from Pelotas, Brazil.

Horta, Falay Island, Azores, Oct. 20. — The German Junkers plane D-1230, which was due to leave here early Monday, will probably take off for Newfoundland tomorrow.

The plane is piloted by Fritz Loose and is carrying Mile. Lillie Dillenz, actress, as a passenger.

LAURISCH NAMED MEMBER OF RAIL, WAREHOUSE BODY

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Christian L. Laurisch, Mankato attorney, today was appointed a member of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission by Gov. Theodore Christianson. At the same time the acceptance of Ivan Bowen's resignation as a member of the commission was announced.

FEDERAL AGENTS RAID FARM NEAR LITTLE FALLS

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Six men are under arrest today following raids late yesterday by federal agents in various parts of the state.

On a farm near Little Falls, dry agents under M. L. Harney, deputy administrator, found two small stills in operation. Floyd Morgan and Peter Solorez were arrested, and an automobile seized.

On another farm near Bowlus, a still was found. Anton Synatz was arrested.

Raids on two alleged drinking clubs in St. Paul resulted in the arrest of three men.

VEILED PROPHET OF KHORASSAN OWNS ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUISANS GENERALLY ADMIT ALLEGIANCE TO HIS MYSTERIOUS MAJESTY

ANNUAL FETE OPENED LAST NIGHT WITH USUAL COLORFUL PARADE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20. — (UP) — Although a regular mayor presided at city hall, St. Louisans generally admitted "allegiance" today to "His Mysterious Majesty," the Veiled Prophet of Khorassan.

The annual fete peculiar to this city officially opened last night with the usual colorful parade of bizarre floats, manned by masked citizens representing every phase of "Our Daily Life."

The city's recovery from the recent tornado was pictured by a float labelled "Spirit of St. Louis," showing Red Cross workers and reconstruction gangs engaged in oblitterating traces of the storm.

Other floats represented this year the commoner phases of life in St. Louis, and featured such prosaic matters as "Hot Dogs," "Our Baby," "Golf," "The Movies," "Radio," "The Flapper" and "The Sheikh." An "Alarm Clock" float indicated the general meaning of "Our Daily Life."

Observance of the event assumes almost the proportions of a civic religious rite. The Veiled Prophet, whose identity has been kept a mysterious secret from the time he first appeared in 1879, tonight will select his "Queen" of "Love and Beauty" at a gala masked ball.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20. — Frank Selvaggi, 23-year-old member of the notorious Cuckoo gang here, was shot and instantly killed last night in a revolver duel with Ben Greensberg, a book-maker who told police Selvaggi attempted to hold him up.

The shooting occurred at Greensberg's cigar store while Veiled Prophet fete crowds passed along the street. Selvaggi was dead when picked up after fleeing from the store, shot through the heart, chest and leg. Greensberg was not wounded.

PASS RESOLUTION BANNING HAZING

Lexington, Va., Oct. 20. — (UP) — The governing board of the Virginia Military Institute last night passed a resolution banning hazing, following a two-day strike by more than 700 cadets because of suspensions of students participating in the practice.

As penalty for striking the board ordered first, second and third class members who took part in the protest confined to the school grounds for four weeks and revoked privileges until Dec. 22.

The board resolution was framed after a stormy 13-hour session ending at 11:30 last night, when it was decided to uphold action of School Superintendent W. H. Cooke in suspending a senior cadet for a hazing that sent a lower classman to a hospital.

Cadet J. S. West, senior class president, said the school corps opposed "brutal hazings." He held "a few bullies" responsible for the injuries to students hazed.

FINNEY GIVES TESTIMONY IN OIL LITIGATION

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS NEGOTIATIONS LEADING TO LEASE WERE SECRET

DESIGNED TO PROTECT AN ALLEGED ILLEGAL CONSPIRACY

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 20. — Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall early in 1922 told his assistant secretary, E. C. Finney, not to give out information on the prospective lease of Teapot Dome, Finney told the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury today.

The government drew this statement from Finney to support its charge that the Fall-Sinclair negotiations leading up to the Teapot Dome lease were conducted in secrecy designed to protect an illegal conspiracy to defraud the government of the naval reserves.

The government also produced letters to the interior department from men seeking to lease Teapot Dome naval reserve, which Finney testified he answered, saying no information was available.

He took this action in accordance with word from Fall, he said. In regard to one such reply written by him March 9, 1922 (a month before the Teapot lease was signed) Finney said he knew the leases were then being negotiated with Sinclair.

Finney then was given to the defense for cross examination.

Reports were current today that Fall intended to testify but he asserted this was not decided.

The reports probably arose, Fall said, from a comment he made to friends yesterday when one of his letters was being read to the jury.

Fall felt that the government was not explaining it in its true meaning, he said and as a result he exclaimed:

"That letter will have to be explained if I have to get on the stand myself and do it."

Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, now in Chicago, notified the government he would appear in response to a subpoena. He is expected to testify next week regarding the famous Continental Trading Company deal, out of which allegedly came Fall's bonds.

Defense and prosecution were either unable or unwilling to produce Stewart at the Cheyenne, Wyo., trial of the Teapot Dome civil case, which finally ended here ten days ago with a U. S. supreme court decision annulling the lease Sinclair got from Fall.

The government, in arguing that Sinclair was the chief figure in an arch-conspiracy to defraud the government of the Teapot naval reserve, contended in the case that the oil and race-horse man obtained from the Continental $230,500 in liberty bonds, part of the company's profits, which appeared in Fall's possession a few weeks after Fall leased the reserve to Sinclair. The defense asserted Sinclair was not a shareholder in Continental, having been interested only in purchasing its oil.

James M. Blackner and James E. O'Neill, who participated in the Continental conferences, are in Europe, having respectively defied and dodged subpoenas. A. E. Humphreys, who sold 33,333.333 barrels of Texas oil to Sinclair and Standard companies through Continental is dead as the result of an accident. Under laws of Toronto, Canada, where the Continental Corporation was formed, the company's shareholders need not be furnished to government authorities as witnesses.

Stewart, one of the conferees at a Continental meeting in November, 1921, is believed to be able to tell whether Sinclair got any of the Continental's profits, which consisted of $2,000,000 in liberty bonds. When government investigators found Fall and his son-in-law, Milton T. Everhart, had some $230,500 in liberty bonds a few weeks after the lease was signed, they traced them back to New York, where it was found they had been purchased by the Continental Company.

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Mme. Marthe Bogowski thought she would surprise her husband, whose faithfulness she suspected.

Porters were carrying M. Alexander Bogowski's heavy trunk from Warsaw railway station when one of them stumbled. The trunk dropped—and screamed.

"Nonsense," said M. Bogowski, to a porter who suspected a near trunk murder. But the trunk was opened.

"My wife," dramatically exclaimed M. Bogowski.

"Yes, it's I, Alexander," said the tearful Mme. Bogowski. "I thought I'd surprise you."

"Well, you certainly did," admitted M. Bogowski. "What's the idea?"

"Somebody told me I had reason to be jealous of you, and I thought I'd get out of the trunk when you arrived at your hotel and see if everything was all right."

"How did you think you were going to get out?" asked M. Bogowski.

"I never thought of that," said the wife.

APPEALS TO SOUTH TO UNITE ON FLOOD CONTROL

SEC. OF WAR DAVIS SPEAKS TO ARKANSAS BUSINESS MEN

ASKS THEM TO SMOTHER ANY DISSENSIONS AMONG THEM

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pine Bluff, Ark., Oct. 20. — An appeal for the south to unite on a definite plan for flood control and smother any dissensions was made to Arkansas business men today by Secretary of War Davis.

At a breakfast given him here, Davis warned that promotion of a variety of schemes which now are developing would hazard success of the whole problem.

"Congress is in a receptive mood now and the project must be put through," he said. "It will be put through if we all drop our minor differences and get behind a single plan."

Davis said flood relief must be "nonpartisan, non-political and non-personal."

RULING ON SHOWING OF FIGHT PICTURES

New York, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Motion picture exhibitors who have been showing pictures of the Dempsey-Tunney fight in states outside Illinois can not be punished under the interstate commerce act forbidding transportation of the films, Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard advised a grand jury today.

Judge Goddard's opinion was given when the jury, which has been investigating the transportation of fight pictures into New York state, asked that the statute be explained.

FASCIST ITALY DICTUM ON POPE'S TEMPORAL POWER

Rome, Oct. 20. — (UP) — An official fascist party bulletin said today that "resumption of temporal power by the Pope, even in reduced form, will not be entertained by fascist Italy."

The bulletin came at a time when well-informed people were speculating on the possibility of an early settlement of the Pope's status on the basis that he might be given sole sovereignty over Vatican property in Rome.

AMERICAN GIRL ASTOUNDS THE NATIVES OF ANGRA

MRS. GRAYSON IS EARTHBOUND, WAITING FOR DECENT WEATHER

Aboard Steamship Lima, at Sea Oct. 20. — (By Wireless to the United Press) — Native of Angra on the island of Terceira were more astounded at seeing Ruth Elder garbed in plus fours than at the story of her attempted trans-Atlantic flight.

When the natives saw a woman garbed in knickers, probably for the first time in the history of the island, they stared wide-eyed at her during her visit yesterday.

After lunch, she and her co-pilot, Captain George Haldeman, toured the island, visiting the monument to Don Pedro IV. They saw ancient water wheels grinding corn, and went to the post office and cathedral.

At 5 P. M., Miss Elder and Haldeman returned to the Lima and watched cattle being loaded, preparatory to sailing.

Old Orchard, Me., Oct. 20. — Hoping that weather conditions will clear by the end of the week, Mrs. Frances W. Grayson and her pilot and navigator were still earthbound today as they patiently awaited an opportunity to begin their proposed flight to Copenhagen.

With adverse weather forecast for the next 48 hours in this region, hope of a start before Saturday has been abandoned.

Despite predictions by those most familiar with Maine coast weather that propitious flying weather is unlikely again this fall, the former schoolmarm still was confident she would not have to give up the fight.

A trip to Boston was planned today by Mrs. Grayson. Additional gas line has been ordered from New York to replace that in the plane which has become infiltrated with rain. It is expected to arrive late today.

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 20. — Late advices from Pelotas indicate that the French trans-Atlantic aviators, Dieudonne Costes and Lieut. Joseph Lebriz, were preparing to take off from that city today on the last leg of their Paris to Buenos Aires flight.

Costes and Lebriz landed at Pelotas last night.

(Pelotas is 20 miles northwest of Rio Grande Do Sul in the province of Rio Grande Do Sul.)

Pelotas, Brazil, Oct. 20. — Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebriz, French trans-Atlantic aviators, took off at 9:40 A. M., today for Buenos Aires.

They had stayed at Pelotas overnight after being delayed by bad weather on their flight from Rio De Janeiro.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 20. — Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebriz, French trans-Atlantic aviators, landed here at 12:54 P. M. today, after a flight from Pelotas, Brazil.

Horta, Falay Island, Azores, Oct. 20. — The German Junkers plane D-1230, which was due to leave here early Monday, will probably take off for Newfoundland tomorrow.

The plane is piloted by Fritz Loose and is carrying Mlle. Lillie Dillenz, actress, as a passenger.

LAURISCH NAMED MEMBER OF RAIL, WAREHOUSE BODY

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Christian L. Laurisch, Mankato attorney, today was appointed a member of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission by Gov. Theodore Christianson. At the same time the acceptance of Ivan Bowen's resignation as a member of the commission was announced.

FEDERAL AGENTS RAID FARM NEAR LITTLE FALLS

St. Paul, Oct. 20. — (UP) — Six men are under arrest today following raids late yesterday by federal agents in various parts of the state.

On a farm near Little Falls, dry agents under M. L. Harney, deputy administrator, found two small stills in operation. Floyd Morgan and Peter Solorez were arrested, and an automobile seized.

On another farm near Bowls, a still was found. Anton Synaltz was arrested.

Raids on two alleged drinking clubs in St. Paul resulted in the arrest of three men.

VEILED PROPHET OF KHORASSAN OWNS ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUISANS GENERALLY ADMIT ALLEGIANCE TO HIS MYSTERIOUS MAJESTY

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20. — (UP) — Although a regular mayor presided at city hall, St. Louisans generally admitted "allegiance" today to "His Mysterious Majesty, the Veiled Prophet of Khorassan."

The annual fete peculiar to this city officially opened last night with the usual colorful parade of bizarre floats, manned by masked citizens representing every phase of "Our Daily Life."

The city's recovery from the recent tornado was pictured by a float labelled "Spirit of St. Louis," showing Red Cross workers and reconstruction gangs engaged in obliterating traces of the storm.

Other floats represented this year the commoner phases of life in St. Louis, and featured such prosaic matters as "Hot Dogs," "Our Baby," "Golf," "The Movies," "Radio," "The Flapper" and "The Sheik." An "Alarm Clock" float indicated the general meaning of "Our Daily Life" here.

Observance of the event assumes almost the proportions of a civic religious rite. The Veiled Prophet, whose identity has been kept a mysterious secret from the time he first appeared in 1879, tonight will select his "Queen" of "Love and Beauty" at a gala masked ball.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20. — Frank Selvaggi, 23-year-old member of the notorious Cuckoo gang here, was shot and instantly killed last night in a revolver duel with Ben Greensberg, a book-maker who told police Selvaggi attempted to hold him up.

The shooting occurred at Greensberg's cigar store while Veiled Prophet fete crowds passed along the street. Selvaggi was dead when picked up after fleeing from the store, shot through the heart, chest and leg. Greensberg was not wounded.

PASS RESOLUTION BANNING HAZING

Lexington, Va., Oct. 20. — (UP) — The governing board of the Virginia Military Institute last night passed a resolution banning hazing, following a two-day strike by more than 700 cadets because of suspensions of students participating in the practice.

As penalty for striking the board ordered first, second and third class members who took part in the protest confined to the school grounds for four weeks and revoked privileges until Dec. 22.

The board resolution was framed after a stormy 13-hour session ending at 11:30 last night, when it was decided to uphold action of School Superintendent W. H. Cooke in suspending a senior cadet for a hazing that sent a lower classman to a hospital.

Cadet J. S. West, senior class president, said the school corps opposed "brutal hazings." He held "a few bullies" responsible for the injuries to students hazed.

FINNEY GIVES TESTIMONY IN OIL LITIGATION

DESIGNED TO PROTECT AN ALLEGED ILLEGAL CONSPIRACY

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 20. — Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall early in 1922 told his assistant secretary, E. C. Finney, not to give out information on the prospective lease of Teapot Dome, Finney told the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury today.

The government drew this statement from Finney to support its charge that the Fall-Sinclair negotiations leading up to the Teapot Dome lease were conducted in secrecy designed to protect an alleged conspiracy to defraud the government of the naval reserves.

The government also produced letters to the interior department from men seeking to lease Teapot Dome naval reserve, which Finney testified he answered, saying no information was available.

He took this action in accordance with word from Fall, he said. In regard to one such reply written by him March 9, 1922 (a month before the Teapot lease was signed) Finney said he knew the leases were then being negotiated with Sinclair.

Finney then was given to the defense for cross examination.

Reports were current today that Fall intended to testify but he asserted this was not decided.

The reports probably arose, Fall said, from a comment he made to friends yesterday when one of his letters was being read to the jury.

Fall felt that the government was not explaining it in its true meaning, he said and as a result he exclaimed:

"That letter will have to be explained if I have to get on the stand myself and do it."

Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, now in Chicago, notified the government he would appear in response to a subpoena. He is expected to testify next week regarding the famous Continental Trading Company deal, out of which allegedly came Fall's bonds.

Defense and prosecution were either unable or unwilling to produce Stewart at the Cheyenne, Wyo., trial of the Teapot Dome civil case, which finally ended here ten days ago with a U. S. supreme court decision annulling the lease Sinclair got from Fall.

The government, in arguing that Sinclair was the chief figure in an arch-conspiracy to defraud the government of the Teapot naval reserve, contended in the case that the oil and race-horse man obtained from the Continental $230,500 in liberty bonds, part of the company's profits, which appeared in Fall's possession a few weeks after Fall leased the reserve to Sinclair. The defense asserted Sinclair was not a shareholder in Continental, having been interested only in purchasing its oil.

James M. Blackner and James E. O'Neil, who participated in the Continental conferences, are in Europe, having respectively fled and dodged subpoenas. A. E. Humphreys, who sold 33,333.333 barrels of Texas oil to Sinclair and Standard companies through Continental is dead as the result of an accident. Under laws of Toronto, Canada, where the Continental Corporation was formed, the company's shareholders need not be furnished to government authorities as witnesses.

Stewart, one of the conferees at a Continental meeting in November, 1921, is believed to be able to tell whether Sinclair got any of the Continental's profits, which consisted of $2,000,000 in liberty bonds. When government investigators found Fall and his son-in-law, Milton T. Everhart, had some $230,500 in liberty bonds a few weeks after the lease was signed, they traced them back to New York, where it was found they had been purchased by the Continental Company.

'COWBOY AVIATOR'
SAYS PLANES ARE SAFER THAN HORSES

St. Paul, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Gaius Isaacs, 21-year-old "cowboy aviator," declared today that it's safer to ride airplanes than horses.

His assertion followed a trip through the clouds 3,000 feet above the Twin Cities, and his signing a contract to take a night school course in flying. Isaacs for eight years was the roughest of rough riders among the bad horse breakers in Miles City, Mont.

"If you handle it right you can talk an airplane out of anything—but you can't do that with a wild horse."

"A four-legged animal, when he's in the air, won't listen to no reason, no-how," the cowboy added.

"With an airplane you can pick your landing place. But with a horse—"

If Kidneys Act
Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You
Have Not Been Drinking
Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

"COWBOY AVIATOR" SAYS PLANES ARE SAFER THAN HORSES

St. Paul, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Gaius Isaacs, 21-year-old "cowboy aviator," declared today that it's safer to ride airplanes than horses.

His assertion followed a trip through the clouds 3,000 feet above the Twin Cities, and his signing a contract to take a night school course in flying. Isaacs for eight years was the roughest of rough riders among the bad horse breakers in Miles City, Mont.

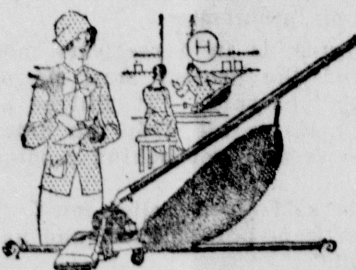

"If you handle it right you can talk an airplane out of anything—but you can't do that with a wild horse."

"A four-legged animal, when he's in the air, won't listen to no reason, no-how," the cowboy added.

"With an airplane you can pick your landing place. But with a horse—"

TUG BOAT GOES OVER DAM; CREW TAKES TO BOATS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Fourteen members of the crew of the tug boat Resolute, including Captain J. B. Cypher, escaped today when the steamer was swept over Lock No. 1 in the Monongahela river. The boat sank.

The Resolute was trying to make Lock No. 1 with a tow of four loaded coal barges when it was caught in the swift current, turned around and swept over the dam backwards. The crew took to the boats and landed safely.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

DEVELOP COUNTY'S DAIRY PRODUCTION

Cow Testing Association is Aim of Dairy Farmers in This County

ORGANIZATION PLANNED

Farmers Will be Allowed to Cull Non Profitable Cow From Herd

A Crow Wing county cow testing association for the betterment of the herd and improving dairy production is the aim of keen sighted farmers of this county. Plans are already under way for the organization of this association which will receive expert assistance, thus determining the butterfat condition of cows in their herds. Cow testing associations have proved very profitable wherever they have been tried throughout the state. Through this association the farmers will be allowed to cull the non profitable cow and keep only those that show high returns.

It is a well established fact among the best dairymen that it does not pay to keep low producing cows. Such cows rarely pay for the feed consumed and are a dead loss to their owners. Dairy cows from the production of milk standpoint can be divided into three classes. First, those that are by nature low producers and would not be profitable even with good feed and care, about one out of every three cows belong to this class. Second, to this class belongs another one-third which a little more than pay for their feed. The milk production of this class can be greatly increased by proper feeding and care. Third, in this class are the high producing and profitable cows. In many herds these cows must carry the loss on the low producers. Highly profitable cows are so for two reasons. First, they have inherited the ability to produce large amounts of milk and butter fat from their ancestors and second, they eat a variety of feeds in liberal quantities that meet the needs for large and profitable production.

In a Morrison County Cow Testing Association, it was found that the ten best cows averaged for the year, 445 lbs. butter fat at a feed cost per cow of $88, leaving an income of $139 yearly per cow above cost of feed. The ten lowest cows in the same association averaged only 120 lbs. butter fat for the year at a feed cost of $39 per cow leaving a profit of only $25 yearly per cow after the feed was paid for. Keeping cows without records of production and feed cost is like trying to tell time on a clock without hands.

Cow testing and record keeping are stepping stones in the development of dairying in Crow Wing county.

Some sixty delegates to the convention of the Order of Eastern Star arrived in the city this afternoon from different directions. The towns of Wadena, Staples, Perham, Vernal, Little Falls and many others are represented.

The convention is what is known as the school of instruction and it is expected that the sessions will be very interesting. This afternoon very little work was done, nothing in fact except opening exercises were gone through. The work was exemplified by the Wadena chapter.

This evening commencing at 6 o'clock there will be a grand banquet at which the members of the order in the city as well as the visiting delegates will partake.

The sessions tomorrow will be especially interesting and it is expected there will be a large attendance at all sessions.

The bazaar and supper of St. Francis church to be held in the old Citizens bank building is being continually enlarged. The supper will be held two nights, Nov. 15 and 16 the bazaar three nights, Nov. 15, 16 and 17.

At a meeting of all committees held in the K. C. hall General Chairman C. A. Ryan presided. Enthusiastic cooperation was being accorded by all parish societies. The purchasing committee reports that a large Brunswick phonograph, breakfast set and Coggswell chair have been purchased to be given away at the bazaar.

To the large list of booths have been added others, one dealing in large fruit cakes packed in tins and a country store, the latter placed in charge of W. J. Garvey.

The entertainment committee reported that the entertainment would consist of vaudeville sketches and musical numbers over the entire three nights of the bazaar.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert, president of the Ladies Guild which has entire charge of the supper to be given the first two nights of the carnival, has practically all of the tickets for the supper distributed.

Publicity work has been done by the general publicity, purchasing and other committees by attending other fairs and suppers in the vicinity. It may be mentioned that the St. Mathias church fair netted the parish $412. The recent supper and fair at Ironton village hall netted the congregation there over $300. The supper and fair at the Crosby armory last night, in charge of Rev. Father Frederick of the Crosby-Ironton parish, had 600 people for supper. Brainerd parish people in attendance at all of these functions, called attention to the coming bazaar and supper in Brainerd and many have promised to attend. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

STRONG COOLIDGE SENTIMENT

WE like to read the New York Times. The Sunday edition rolls out ten sections long and every page is a matter of interest. On the editorial page is a column of comments entitled "By-Products." Unlike the editorials which usually are of half-column length, the "By Products Man" believes in brevity. He writes sensibly in spite of the spirit of persiflage and facetiousness that seems to prevail.

Here is his comment on a recent letter of Will Rogers. The lariat throwing comedian travels all over America and knows what he is talking about. He addresses luncheon clubs and legislatures and writes, and does his turn in the theatre and is a good mixer. "By-Products" says:

Will Rogers' letter to Mr. Hearst on the subject of Mr. Coolidge is written with an intensity of conviction that makes one wonder how the former Mayor of Beverly escaped swallowing his chewing gum.

Mr. Rogers' 5 to 1 assertion that if Mr. Coolidge is nominated he will be elected is based avowedly on an established tradition, namely, that the Democratic Party always splits and the Republican Party always holds together. Far be it from this department to deny a historic Democratic trait which endears it to the American people every day in the year except election day.

But there have been exceptions on both sides. The record, of course, is that in the last fifteen years all the bad splitting has been done by the Republicans. Theodore Roosevelt's secession put the Democrats into power for eight years. In 1924 a third party was headed by a Wisconsin Republican. At the present moment there are insurgent Republican rumblings in the Middle West. As a betting proposition Mr. Rogers' offer for next year may be justified, but that would be because his hunch is sounder than his history.

TAKING CARE OF WAR VETERANS

THE United States has taken better care of its war veterans than any other nation, President Coolidge declared in his speech dedicating a statue to General George Gordon Meade, commander of the victorious Union army at the Civil War Battle of Gettysburg.

"We have not only been lavish in the public honors which have been conferred upon our veterans, but we have also bestowed upon them pensions and gratuities, reaching down to every man in the ranks, with which no other country can make comparison," Mr. Coolidge said.

"Such benefactions accorded to Civil War veterans will probably exceed twice the cost of that great war, although it lasted for a space of four years."

Adding that "many statues do not increase the beauty of their surroundings," Mr. Coolidge praised the Meade memorial which has been erected in the botanic gardens at the foot of Capital Hill in Washington. He likewise defended Meade's record in history and questioned genuineness of criticism which was heaped upon Meade for his failure to follow up his victory at Gettysburg. Mr. Coolidge said Meade was a gallant soldier and a Christian gentleman to whom final justice is now being done.

"The more we study the history of the war in which he fought, the more Gen. Meade stands out as a responsible and reliable commander," the president said. "Others may have had more dash, though none surpassed him in courage. He did not engage himself in leading hopeless charges. He was, rather, a general who kept himself sufficiently informed of the movements of his enemy and made such preparations and wise dispositions of his own troops that hopeless charges were not necessary."

"It cannot be said that he always won, but he experienced very little of defeat. His personality was well rounded out."

THE tipping system, according to our notion, seems a moss-grown institution of Europe. And in our own country it holds sway most strongly in that section of the United States known as New York City. Minnesota's legislature wrestled with the tipping evil. Now Stockholm, Sweden, has taken the bull by the horns and tips have been abolished by the 12 leading hotels and guests will be charged, instead, a definite service fee on their bills. In other words, your hotel overhead, instead of being 10 per cent or more of your bill distributed by yourself to an army of servants, is now tacked on the bill and collected by the hotel.

THE Minnesota game and fish department broke all previous records for fish planting in the year that ended June 30, last. The total number of fish fry and fingerlings planted in the lakes of the state in that year amounted to 520,173,000, according to figures given out by J. F. Gould, game and fish commissioner, based on compilations by Thaddeus Surber, superintendent of fish propagation. The previous year's total was 400,700,000.

THE state has adopted a lot of common sense rules to serve car drivers and to make the constantly increasing motor traffic safe to all concerned, and that means drivers, passengers, pedestrians, cows, horses and chickens. We see one glaring fault, however, insofar that no rules were laid down governing the back-seat driver.

PRESIDENTS Coolidge and Calles predict the telephone will improve relations between the people of the United States and Mexico. One thing is certain it won't take Coolidge very long to call up the Mexican President and get an answer and conversation so promoted has quicker results than lengthy correspondence traveling by rail.

It's quite thrilling to pick up an old paper and read the experts' comment on how Jack Dempsey was sure to win the fight and how the Pirates were to grab the world series.

WE remember in the items of 25 years ago, as recorded in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch, the only "flying trips" were hurried ones by train to St. Paul or Pillager.

THE Parent-Teacher meetings are becoming so interesting that men now constitute a considerable portion of the attendance. The men serve well on committees too.

So intense has the hiking fever become in Brainerd that some high school boys are thinking seriously of abandoning the old car and walking to school.

Your Essex gives you 50 miles an hour all day long. Far greater speed if you want it. Brilliant activity in pick-up and hill climbing. More than 2½ times the power its motor size ordinarily rates it. Long life and enduring character to all its abilities and quality.

It is exclusive performance because Essex Super-Six design is exclusive. And because every part of motor and chassis is engineered to true balance with every other part.

This unity construction goes beyond Essex performance to Essex comfort, appearance and economy. Thus its compactness gives 15% more passenger room. Its riding ease is not excelled by any car regardless of size or price.

And it is engineered to lowest operation and maintenance cost. During the year Essex has outsold any other "Six" at or near the price, almost two to one, and we believe a single ride will fully reveal the reason.

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

- 1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.
- 6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

BASQUE CHOPPER FLOPS OUT OF HEAVYWEIGHT LINEUP

UZCUDUN WAS TO HAVE MET

PHIL SCOTT

PAOLINO CLAIMS TO HAVE SPRAINED HIS BROAD BACK

HAD FIGHT SCHEDULED NOV. 4 WITH ERSTWHILE BRITISH CHAMPION

By FRANK GETTY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 20.—Paolino Uzcudun has turned one of his famous black flip flops right out of the heavyweight elimination lineup.

The Basque woodchopper, who was to have met Phil Scott, erstwhile British heavyweight champion, on November 4, claims to have sprained his broad back and the bout has been called off.

Paolino must appear before Dr. Walker, boxing commission physician, today, and prove his claim to save his forfeit.

But the bout is off and Scott, who recently doffed a fireman's suit and a little red fireman's hat to become a member of the H. H. of G. B., finds himself without an opponent for his American debut.

The horizontal heavyweights of Great Britain—as young Mr. Scott's organization is called—chipped in and sent Phil to this country in the hopes that he might remain vertical, or at least attain a 45 degree angle, long enough to dispell some of the derision directed towards this society.

Tex Rickard dampened the ardor of the H. H. of G. B. by naming the bounding Basque as Scott's first opponent.

It was popularly supposed that the Tottenham Court Road Hose Cart Company No. 3 would soon welcome back its absent member. Scott's stay in the elimination tournament seemed due to end on Nov. 4.

Paolino flattened Scott at their last meeting. True, Phil pulled a Jack Sharkey and claimed to have been fouled, but as he was in the customary horizontal attitude at the time no particular attention was paid to his protests.

The bout was to have touched off the winter's elimination fireworks, which, if they do not all fizzle the way this example did, will produce the "logical contender for the heavyweight championship of the world."

And then came word from Paolino's board of managers that the Basque had sprained his back reaching across the dining room table at Madame Bey's for the last pork chop—and the fight was called off by Jess McMahon, who tends to match-making at Madison Square Garden in Tex Rickard's absence.

It is unlikely that the discovery that Phil Scott now is being managed by James J. Johnston had anything to do with the spraining of that broad Basque back.

Yet stranger things have happened. Fighters have been known to sprain more than their backs in alarm at discovering that James J. Johnston will be in the opposite corner.

Jimmy has a way with him—and if you are a fighter you feel more comfortable if it's your way.

While he never has managed to manage a heavyweight champion of the world, Johnston has not given up hope. He professes to have high hopes for Phil Scott.

The departure of Paolino leaves the door open for Jimmy to select a somewhat softer spot for his protégé's debut. Perhaps he is not displeased at the opportunity.

Threw Water on Spectators

Chicago—Sol Gold, manager of Archie Bell, and Johnny Salvatore, manager of My Sullivan, were suspended for an indefinite period by the boxing commission here for throwing water on spectators. Eddie Connors and Harry Dubinsky were suspended for thirty days for failure to make weights in recent bouts. Earle Blue, Fargo boxer, was fined $50 for "unsportsmanlike actions" in a bout here Tuesday.

ONE-ARMED DRIVER FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—(UP)—A second jury to hear evidence in the case against Louis LaRose, one-arm driver, charged with the death of B. W. Peterson two months ago, deliberated for 6 hours and late yesterday returned a verdict finding him guilty of manslaughter. The first jury disagreed on a verdict and was discharged.

Pending arguments for a new trial sentence will not be passed on LaRose.

CHICAGO WOMAN, MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN MEET DEATH

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Wilhelmina Scholz, killed with her mother and two children in an automobile crash here last night, had a premonition of disaster before she left her home, it was revealed today.

Mrs. Scholz, Mrs. Anna Knaack and Franz and Marie Scholz were killed when their automobile was struck by a passenger train at a street crossing. Another child was seriously injured.

Before starting out Mrs. Scholz told her husband she wished he would go along.

"I'm afraid something is going to happen," she said.

A few hours later she was killed in the accident.

IS INCENSED AT THE RECENT HOAX OF DR. LOGAN

MRS. IVY GILL ISSUES DETAILS OF HER CHALLENGE

IF NONE LAND, SWIMMER NEAREST COAST TO BE THE WINNER

Sheffield, Eng., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Ivy Gill, who claims to have conquered the English channel recently, has challenged all comers to a cross-channel race.

Mrs. Gill proposes that if none of the competitors land, the swimmer nearest the English coast will be acclaimed winner.

Incensed at the recent hoax of Dr. Logan, Mrs. Gill went to Dover and obtained signed statements from the crew which had accompanied her on her swim from Cape Gris Nez to Shakespeare Cliff.

Her competitive proposal, she believes, will prove that her claims to the channel conquest are genuine.

New Mascot of Senators

MADE MONEY POSING TO VICTIMS AS A "DOCTOR"

WOULD "EXAMINE HEALTH OF HOUSEWIFE," THEN STEAL JEWELRY

EDWARD KOCH CAPTURED AFTER CHASE IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Oct. 20.—(UP)—The medico-burglarological profession today had lost the services of its most illustrious practitioner as Edward Koch, alias "Dr. Kat," alias "Dr. Franklin," alias a lot of other names, prepared to spend some time as the guest of the state.

Koch, a former convict, was taken captive by police after he had robbed a score of women by posing as a doctor sent by absent husbands to examine their wives.

It was a most ingenious racket and it worked this way:

"Dr. Katz" would call at a home after the husband had left for work. The "physician" would introduce himself and say that the husband wanted him to investigate the health of the housewife.

After a brief talk Koch would ask the "patient" to step into the bathroom or another room and divest herself of some of her clothing so that the examination could proceed.

Then if possible he would lock the woman in the room, gather up her jewelry and other valuables and leave.

Koch was successful in the Bronx but he decided he would give up his "practice" there and change neighborhoods. He moved his field of activity to the Brownsville section of Brooklyn.

That was where he made his big mistake.

For Mrs. Eva Zurinsky, 23, needed no medical attention and knew her husband would not send a doctor without informing her. Nevertheless she admitted "Dr. Katz" to her home and trapped him in a series of questions. He had professed to know her husband's telephone number but did not call it correctly at her request.

He ran for the door and tried to get out.

"You're a fake," she screamed. The "doctor" beat a hasty retreat, with Mrs. Zurinsky following.

On they raced. Koch is a stout little man but he made swift progress. Two men caught him.

"Let me go," he pleaded, "and I'll give you $75."

But they held on and Detective James Drumm came up.

At police headquarters it was estimated his loot totalled $50,000 since his release from Sing Sing. Prior to his arrest in 1918 he was not a "doctor"—he was then a "tailor."

Then it was his custom to call at a house and say he had been sent by the husband to make a new dress for the wife. Would she mind taking off part of her clothing to permit him to measure her?

Then with the victim in a partial state of undress he would take the jewelry and depart. When arrested he explained:

"When a woman is trying on clothes she never thinks of her jewels. No matter how carefully she guards them at other times she forgets all about them when being measured for a new dress."

DIVORCED ON CRUELTY GROUNDS

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Maude Tischer, 38, late yesterday was granted a divorce from W. H. Tischer, 40, former city commissioner, on grounds of desertion and cruelty.

Tischer instituted divorce proceedings, but when his wife counter-claimed, he withdrew.

AUTO SALESMAN OF ST. CLOUD INDICTED

Little Falls, Minn., Oct. 20.—(UP)—C. M. Dawson, automobile salesman of St. Cloud, today was indicted for first degree manslaughter in connection with the death of William Dorman, Little Falls, last month.

Dawson was granted 34 hours in which to make a plea. He is at liberty under bond of $2,000.

Dorman was killed when his farm wagon was struck by an automobile driven by Dawson.

BASQUE CHOPPER FLOPS OUT OF HEAVYWEIGHT LINEUP

UZCUDUN WAS TO HAVE MET

PHIL SCOTT

HAD FIGHT SCHEDULED NOV. 4 WITH ERSTWHILE BRITISH CHAMPION

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 20.—Paolino Uzcudun has turned one of his famous black flip flops right out of the heavyweight elimination line-up.

The Basque woodchopper, who was to have met Phil Scott, erstwhile British heavyweight champion, on November 4, claims to have sprained his broad back and the bout has been called off.

Paolino must appear before Dr. Walker, boxing commission physician, today, and prove his claim to save his forfeit.

But the bout is off and Scott, who recently doffed a fireman's suit and a little red fireman's hat to become a member of the H. H. of G. B., finds himself without an opponent for his American debut.

The horizontal heavyweights of Great Britain—as young Mr. Scott's organization is called—chipped in and sent Phil to this country in the hopes that he might remain vertical, or at least attain a 45 degree angle, long enough to dispell some of the derision directed towards this society.

Tex Rickard dampened the ardor of the H. H. of G. B. by naming the bounding Basque as Scott's first opponent.

It was popularly supposed that the Tottenham Court Road Hose Cart Company No. 3 would soon welcome back its absent member. Scott's stay in the elimination tournament seemed due to end on Nov. 4.

Paolino flattened Scott at their last meeting. True, Phil pulled a Jack Sharkey and claimed to have been fouled, but as he was in the customary horizontal attitude at the time no particular attention was paid to his protests.

The bout was to have touched off the winter's elimination fireworks, which, if they do not all fizzle the way this example did, will produce the "logical contender for the heavyweight championship of the world."

And then came word from Paolino's board of managers that the Basque had sprained his back reaching across the dining room table at Madame Bey's for the last pork chop—and the fight was called off by Jess McMahon, who tends to match-making at Madison Square Garden in Tex Rickard's absence.

It is unlikely that the discovery that Phil Scott now is being managed by James J. Johnston had anything to do with the spraining of that broad Basque back.

Yet stranger things have happened. Fighters have been known to sprain more than their backs in alarm at discovering that James J. Johnston will be in the opposite corner.

Jimmy has a way with him—and if you are a fighter you feel more comfortable if it's your way.

While he never has managed to manage a heavyweight champion of the world, Johnston has not given up hope. He professes to have high hopes for Phil Scott.

The departure of Paolino leaves the door open for Jimmy to select a somewhat softer spot for his protégé's debut. Perhaps he is not displeased at the opportunity.

Threw Water on Spectators

Chicago—Sol Gold, manager of Archie Bell, and Johnny Salvatore, manager of My Sullivan, were suspended for an indefinite period by the boxing commission here for throwing water on spectators. Eddie Connors and Harry Dubinsky were suspended for thirty days for failure to make weights in recent bouts. Earle Blue, Fargo boxer, was fined $50 for "unsportsmanlike actions" in a bout here Tuesday.

ONE-ARMED DRIVER FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Minneapolis, Oct. 20.—(UP)—A second jury to hear evidence in the case against Louis LaRose, one-arm driver, charged with the death of B. W. Pending arguments for a new trial sentence will not be passed on LaRose.

HAD PREMONITION OF DISASTER

CHICAGO WOMAN, MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN MEET DEATH

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Wilhelmina Scholz, killed with her mother and two children in an automobile crash here last night, had a premonition of disaster before she left her home, it was revealed today.

Mrs. Scholz, Mrs. Anna Knaack and Franz and Marie Scholz were killed when their automobile was struck by a passenger train at a street crossing. Another child was seriously injured.

Before starting out Mrs. Scholz told her husband she wished he would go along.

"I'm afraid something is going to happen," she said.

A few hours later she was killed in the accident.

Incensed at the recent hoax of Dr. Logan, Mrs. Gill went to Dover and obtained signed statements from the crew which had accompanied her on her swim from Cape Gris Nez to Shakespeare Cliff.

CENTENARIAN GIVES PHILOSOPHY OF HER LIFE

MRS. DOROTHY REED SMITH
DUNHAM OF HOKAH IS 102
YEARS OLD

CONGRATULATORY LETTERS
AND TELEGRAMS COME
INTO HER HOME

Hokah, Minn., Oct. 20.—(UP)—The hope of Mrs. Dorothy Reed Smith Dunham, centenarian of this town, that she should not live through her 101st year, has not been fulfilled.

With congratulatory letters and telegrams coming into her home from all parts of the country, she lighted the 102 candles of her birthday cake here today at a celebration that nearly all of the townfolk attended.

Her philosophy of living, expressed a year ago, was this:

"I could not live one year, one month, one day beyond the hour when I lose the ability to live fully."

"The one thing I fear is living until I am old, not old in years, but in body, in thought and spirit. Compared with the thought of failing in health, physically and mentally, of becoming helpless and useless, the prospect of dying is exhilarated."

"It is because I have found life so interesting and stimulating that I shiver at the thought of living after it has turned stale."

But it was not the flagging of interest in life that caused Mrs. Dunham to fail to find hope that she would continue a part of it.

It was loneliness. All of her family, her father, her mother, brothers and sisters are gone.

"I am lonesome. I guess that's it," she said today, meditatively.

"I have outlived them all."

Mrs. Dunham, a native of Vermont, treasures a telegram from President Coolidge she received on her last birthday.

"I wonder if he'll remember me this year?" she asked.

And the townfolk, during their celebration today, planned for the similar event next year.

CHAS. R. FORBES TO BE RELEASED FROM FEDERAL PRISON

Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 20.—(UP)—With 144 days deducted from his sentence for good behavior, Chas. R. Forbes, former director of the United States veterans' bureau, will be released from federal prison here upon the expiration of his term, October 27, if he pays a $10,000 fine, it was said at the penitentiary here today.

He was sentenced to two years for conspiracy to defraud the government.

COUNTY NURSE'S MONTHLY REPORT

Twelve of 46 Children Examined at Clinic Were Given Application Blanks

ANNUAL ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC

Two Tuberculosis Clinics Held With Attendance of 11; Two Old, Nine New Cases

The report of Miss Thora Ingebrison, county nurse for the month of September shows that during that month much work of importance was successfully carried out.

The report reads:
Total number of visits, 102.
Total number of visits to homes, 74.

Of this number there were two nursing care; 71 instruction and demonstration; one investigation and 28 miscellaneous.

School Work

Thirteen school rooms were visited and 214 children were inspected. 106 in classroom inspection and 23 individual inspections.

Special Cases

Three blind cases were visited and applications were made for two of them to go to the University Hospital. Miss Turner from the State Division for the Blind was in the county in regard to several cases.

Mr. Nilson from the State Department for Re-education of Crippled Persons was a visitor. Arrangements were made for three people to receive vocational training.

Tuberculosis Clinics

Two tuberculosis clinics were held with an attendance of eleven—two old and nine new cases. One patient was advised to go to the sanatorium.

Range Fair

A health booth was arranged at the Range Fair and two days were spent there interviewing people and weighing and measuring children. A fish pond for the children was quite an attraction.

Orthopedic Clinic

The annual orthopedic clinic was held and was very successful. Forty-six children were examined, twelve of which were given application blanks to the State Hospital for Crippled Children. Twelve were old State Hospital cases who were advised to return to the hospital for further treatment. Dr. Emil Geist, specialist from Minneapolis, was the clinician. Four local doctors visited the clinic. Miss Helen Smith, nurse from the State Hospital for Crippled Children assisted.

Mr. Allguer had been a resident of this county for the past 30 years. His wife predeceased him 12 years ago in Brainerd.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Aleck Kennedy, Margy, Minn., Mrs. Joseph Dettlof, Big Falls, Minn., Mrs. C. M. Bunker, Hill City, Minn., Mrs. Norman Austin, Ft. Ripley; two sons, Leonard of South Range, Wis., and Herman Allguer of Brainerd.

FIRE NORTH OF MOTLEY

Ten Acres of Brush and Timber Burn Out; First Fire in District of Season

Hunters are blamed for the brush fire that burned over 10 acres of brush and trees in township 131, range 31 north of Motley the first day of this week. Three firefighters were employed in putting out the blaze.

This was the first brushfire to occur this fall, considered a fire season, in this district. Other districts report heavy losses.

No additional men have been put on this fall to fight fires. E. H. Rhodes, district forest ranger, who has been conducting a campaign for the prevention of fire hopes the season pass through without any serious fires.

CRIPPLE IN WHEEL CHAIR HAS MISHAP

John Abear Propelled Carriage on Laurel Street West Struck From Rear

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Darkness and no Lights on Self Propelled Chair Blamed for Accident

John Abear, crippled, known to Brainerdites who see him propel his wheel chair through streets of Brainerd came to an accident last night while returning to his home from down town.

He was going west on Laurel street apparently near the center of the street when Ludwig Larson, caretaker at the Country club driving home glared the chair and threw Abear to the street. He was picked up and taken to the St. Joseph's hospital where he was reported this morning to be improving.

The accident happened at about 8:45 o'clock yesterday. Darkness and no lights on the carriage prevented the motorist from seeing him. The wheel chair was smashed. A handle of the crank of the chair caught in the radiator of the car causing the accident.

LEAKAGE OF HEART CLAIMS YOUNG LADY

Miss Teresa May Marshall, 24. Passed Away Last Evening in Brainerd

HAD HOST OF FRIENDS

Taken Here Four Days Ago After Spending 16 Weeks in Two Minneapolis Hospitals

After an illness of sixteen weeks in hospitals in Minneapolis, Miss Teresa May Marshall, 24 years old, well known and well liked by her many friends in this city, passed away last evening in Brainerd, four days after she had been taken to Brainerd from Minneapolis. Death was due to leakage of the heart.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Marshall, 429 D. street N. E., Miss Marshall had been a resident of Brainerd for many years. She was born in Eau Claire, Wis., March 1903, coming to Brainerd with her parents at the age of one. She was employed in Brainerd at the Murphy Dry Goods store for four years, later moving to Minneapolis. She was given attention during her illness for nine weeks at the Deaconess hospital and for seven weeks at Fairview hospital, Minneapolis.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Evangelical church, Rev. L. F. Strothman officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Live Forever

MORE THAN TWO MILLION HOUSEWIVES HAVE PROVED THIS SUGAR
IN JELLY MAKING AND PRESERVING . . . IT IS GUARANTEED!

MRS. J. V. BAILEY, NEWPORT, MINN.

State champion jelly makers and preservers were chosen for eight states in the contest recently conducted by The Great Western Sugar Company. The Minnesota state champion is Mrs. J. V. Bailey of Newport, representing the Newport Mothers' Club. Although not a contest requirement, Mrs. Bailey used Great Western Sugar in making her jellies and preserves. Her suggestions follow.

IN MY jelly making I use the Epsom Salts test for pectin. Either this or the alcohol test is necessary if the best jelly is to be obtained. Dissolve one teaspoon of sugar, one-half tablespoon of Epsom Salts and one-half tablespoon of the fruit juice. If jelly is formed in twenty minutes, the juice contains sufficient pectin.

My best results are obtained when I use a large porcelain kettle.

For several years I have used Great Western Sugar in my jelly making and preserving. It is a fine-grained sugar, and always seems to be of high quality.

Jelly making is not a difficult task, but certainly it requires thoroughness and careful attention to simple procedure.

There would be few failures if the housewife would always test for pectin, adding it if the fruit juice is not sufficiently rich in pectin.

A number of fruits are yet available this summer for jellies and preserves. Do not let the season pass without putting some of them up for next winter's enjoyment!

The Great Western Sugar Company
Sugar Building Denver, Colorado

GRAPE JELLY—This may be made from either ripe or green grapes—any kind. Very green grapes give a jelly a pale color. Those which are tinged with red, a deep pink, and ripe grapes, give a jelly a purple color. In no case must the grapes be over-ripe. If very green grapes are used, the amount of Great Western Beet Sugar should be increased. For one pint of juice use one pint of sugar; otherwise the procedure is as given in the Great Western book on jelly making and preserving.

MORE THAN TWO MILLION HOUSEWIVES HAVE PROVED THIS SUGAR IN JELLY MAKING AND PRESERVING . . . IT IS GUARANTEED!

MRS. J. V. BAILEY, NEWPORT, MINN.

State champion jelly makers and preservers were chosen for eight states in the contest recently conducted by The Great Western Sugar Company. The Minnesota state champion is Mrs. J. V. Bailey of Newport, representing the Newport Mothers' Club. Although not a contest requirement, Mrs. Bailey used Great Western Sugar in making her jellies and preserves. Her suggestions follow.

IN MY jelly making I use the Epsom Salts test for pectin. Either this or the alcohol test is necessary if the best jelly is to be obtained. Dissolve one teaspoon of sugar, one-half tablespoon of Epsom Salts and one-half tablespoon of the fruit juice. If jelly is formed in twenty minutes, the juice contains sufficient pectin.

My best results are obtained when I use a large porcelain kettle.

For several years I have used Great Western Sugar in my jelly making and preserving. It is a fine-grained sugar, and always seems to be of high quality.

Jelly making is not a difficult task, but certainly it requires thoroughness and careful attention to simple procedure.

There would be few failures if the housewife would always test for pectin, adding it if the fruit juice is not sufficiently rich in pectin.

A number of fruits are yet available this summer for jellies and preserves. Do not let the season pass without putting some of them up for next winter's enjoyment!

GRAPE JELLY—This may be made from either ripe or green grapes—any kind. Very green grapes give a jelly a pale color. Those which are tinged with red, a deep pink, and ripe grapes—a jelly of purple color. In no case must the grapes be overripe. If very green grapes are used, or green wild grapes, the amount of Great Western Beet Sugar should be increased. For one pint of juice use one pint of sugar; otherwise the procedure is as given in the Great Western book on jelly making and preserving.

"IRISH HEARTS," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Sheila Kidare and her father emigrate to America from Killam, Ireland. They have followed Emmett Murtough, to whom Sheila is betrothed. Neither Murtough nor Kidare will hold steady jobs and Sheila goes to work as a waitress. She makes friends with the family of Rory O'Shea, a professional boxer, whose kindness interests her. Murtough joins a bootlegging gang and becomes involved with a cabaret girl. Rory wins his fight with Campeau. The purse is $2,500.

Sheila did not know that in America she had more than four million young men became excellent boxers in the training camps and that the ring when man pits strength and skill and quickness of limb and eye against the same even qualities of another man that it is no longer hideous but a brave sight.

Sheila had shuddered as she mentally pictured the blood streaming over Rory's face and she recalled her curiosity and the repugnance she felt when first she noticed the shapeless ear which Rory wore modestly. A cauliflower ear is nothing to boast of, not even among fighters! She wondered before she fell asleep what Rory O'Shea would decide to do. Would he continue to try for the championship or would he start into business for himself with his winnings. Twenty-five hundred dol-

"Who's that?"
Three men stood in the road two hundred yards ahead. As the cars approached one stepped across to the right and waved his arm. Murtough drew his automatic out of its shoulder holster. Devlin struck him with his elbow. "Not that!" Devlin slowed down.

"Halt!"
The car came to a stop and one of the figures on the left stepped to the running board. His companion covered the occupants.

"What's in the truck, fellow," demanded the leader.
"How should I know," answered Devlin. "Ask the driver maybe he knows."

"You're piloting it; what's in it?"
"Go on; why should I be piloting a truck just because I'm driving ahead of it?"

"Oh, we're wise. Come on, now, let's get at this."

"Well, what's it all about," demanded Devlin. "Who are you and what right have you got to stop anybody?"

"We're agents," the spokesman threw back his coat and showed a badge.

"Yeah, you're fine agents," jeered Devlin. "In what alley did you pick up those badges?"

"We'll show you. Climb into the back seat there, you two. Sam, get on the driver's seat of the truck and cover both those men. Dan, you sit in the back here; I'll drive."

"Yes, you will. Come on now; what's all the play for. How do you know you're agents. Anybody can get a couple of fake badges."

"I don't think you're agents at all. What you want is some spending money. Well, how much?"

"Your money can't fix us, we're on the level."

"I don't believe it. Come on, you got us stopped. How much?"

"You're pretty wise at that. Suppose we ain't agents; just the same we got you and we can run you in to the nearest station; then where do you get off?"

"Oh, it may cost a couple of hundred in cash, but to tell the truth we want to get into the city. We don't want to lose any time."

"That sounds reasonable. It's your turn to talk."

"I'll slip you fifty a piece. And it's a good job for you. A ten minute stick up and a hundred and fifty. How about it?"

"Behave! Do you think we're young. Two hundred for each of us."

"Never! I'd rather ride into the station," bluffed Devlin. "Besides I haven't got that much." Devlin reached into his trousers pocket and pulled out some bills. He counted them in front of his captors. There were $225. "Here, I've got three twenty fives. I need the twenty five. You take the rest. How about it? Then none of us lose any time."

The spokesman of the trio reached for the money. Devlin held it back.

"Not yet! Call your man off that truck and stick your guns in their pockets. Line up there on the right, the three of you."

The leaders of the three hold-up men called his companions and they grouped themselves on the right of the pilot car. Devlin handed the bills to Murtough.

"Come on, Dick," he cried to the driver of the truck. The truck sped up and passed the pilot car. "Give him the dough," said Devlin and Murtough handed it over. "Good-by, you cheap grafters," cried Devlin as he stepped on the gas. In a few minutes he had overtaken the truck and was again in the lead at a pace of forty miles an hour.

"Why, didn't you run by 'em or run 'em down," asked Murtough.

"I knew they weren't real hi-jackers. No hi-jacker is going to stand in the middle of the road a target for bullets. They may be cheap grafters, actually attached to the enforcement division, or they may be small time crooks who take up badges and take chicken feed. And, you can't always tell what those cheap guys'll do. One of 'em may be hopped up just enough to shoot without any reason and then you're in a jam, even if nobody gets hurt. You got to use judgment in this game, boy."

lars! A fortune thought Sheila. In her ignorance she did not realize that Rory would not net more than $1500 when his manager had been paid and other expenses deducted.

Devlin and Murtough had met early and the leisurely drive to Clocker's landing station had proved uneventful. They arrived well ahead of their schedule and there was more than an hour to wait. The driver for the truck and his guard had been sent down ahead by train and they were ready and waiting the hour to start.

"We got a lot of work ahead," remarked Simmons casually. "The old man's got a shipload out there and we're preparing to take care of $50,000 worth of stuff. Going to try to land it all in two nights, next Friday and Saturday. Then it will mean double time to get it to the warehouses in the city. There'll be hard driving to do then."

"Going to land all of it here? I should think it would be better to slip in some up at the place on the Sound and not take a chance with all of it in one spot."

"Well, I don't know what Mannie's idea is, but he gave us orders to get ready to store it all here beginning Friday night."

"Any leaks this time?" Stevens' gang rapped Mannie hard the last time to say nothing of what happened to Evans and Williams, poor devils."

"You got yours too, didn't you," Simmons asked Murtough.

"Yes, but it didn't prove serious, laid up a few days that was all."

"You're lucky. Did Dixon recognize any of the hi-jackers?"

"No, but, of course, we all know it was Stevens' gang. Mannie put Dixon out to run 'em down if he could and when he gets wise to who did the shooting, believe me, from what I heard Mannie say, there will be war in plenty."

Devlin looked at his watch. "Come on, boys, it's five of two. Let's get started." The truck driver and his companion mounted the van and started the engine. The pilot car took the lead at the road and the drive to the City began.

The two automobiles easily acquired the forty mile an hour schedule and so smoothly did the engines run that the machine could hardly be heard a hundred yards off the highway. There was a quarter moon which gave light sufficient to see yards ahead and danger. An hour and a half later Murtough nudged Devlin.

"Oh, it may cost a couple of hundred in cash, but to tell the truth we want to get into the city. We don't want to lose any time."

"That sounds reasonable. It's your turn to talk."

"I'll slip you fifty a piece. And it's a good job for you. A ten minute stick up and a hundred and fifty. How about it?"

"Behave! Do you think we're young. Two hundred for each of us."

"Never! I'd rather ride into the station," bluffed Devlin. "Besides, I haven't got that much." Devlin reached into his trousers pocket and pulled out some bills. He counted them in front of his captors. There were $325. "Here, I've got three twenty fives. I need the twenty five. You take the rest. How about it? Then none of us lose any time."

"Not yet! Call your man off that truck and stick your guns in your pockets. Line up there on the right, the three of you."

The leaders of the three hold-up men called his companions and they grouped themselves on the right of the pilot car. Devlin handed the bills to Murtough. "Come on, Dick," he cried to the driver of the truck. The truck sped up and passed the pilot car. "Give him the dough," said Devlin and Murtough handed it over. "Good-by, you cheap grafters," cried Devlin as he stepped on the gas. In a few minutes he had overtaken the truck and was again in the lead at a pace of forty miles an hour.

"Why, didn't you run by 'em or run 'em down," asked Murtough.

"I knew they weren't real hi-jackers. No hi-jacker is going to stand in the middle of the road a target for bullets. They may be cheap grafters, actually attached to the enforcement division, or they may be small time crooks who take up badges and take chicken feed. And, you can't always tell what those cheap guys'll do. One of 'em may be hopped up just enough to shoot without any reason and then you're in a jam, even if nobody gets hurt. You got to use judgment in this game, boy."

At four-thirty o'clock the pilot car and the truck drove into the garage which was the blind for the cache in the city. Devlin and Murtough walked east to Ninth Avenue and there took taxis to their lodgings. Before the cab driver reached Murtough's rooming house Emmett decided to call on Clarice at the Castle. He ordered the cab to wait while he washed and put on a more presentable suit and half an hour later he was greeted with squeals of delight by Clarice. There were still half a dozen parties on and as they left one at a time, other parties, all in evening clothes, drifted in from the entertainment night clubs downtown; but the morning proved to be a quiet one. Murtough ordered a truckman's portion of bacon and eggs and drinks and contented himself to wait until Clarice would be excused.

Tells Skinny Men How to Gain Weight

Money Back if You Don't

If the flat chested man whose ribs are almost bursting through his skin doesn't try to make himself look like a real man, no one else will.

When any man or woman needs more weight they ought to be told that the greatest of all flesh builders is McCoy's Tablets.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at H. P. Dunn's, Johnson's Pharmacy or any drug store in America. —Advt
